Many thanks, also, to the staff members of local health departments and the Washington State Department of Health who reviewed the modules during their development.

The five modules in this series were developed by Washington State Department of Health in partnership with the Northwest Center for Public Health Practice. Funding was provided by a CDC grant for Assessment in Action, grant no. 5U82CD022378-05, to Washington State Department of Health. The contents of this training module are solely the responsibility of the authors and do not necessarily reflect the official view of CDC.
